

Priscilla's Big Night (Game of chase, changed scene)

(Note: This is a scene that at one point was going to be in the finalized story, but it was changed because I felt it wasn't the scene I originally had in mind for the story. What's presented here is the removed scenario as written in my story plots list doc.)

After having finished their meal they then head into the living room again. While in there Priscilla puts Calimero on the sofa.

"Ok honey. Wait here while I'm going to my bedroom, because I have one more surprise for you tonight!" Priscilla said and goes to her bedroom to get something.

Thinking it's some sort of present, Calimero sits down and waits patiently for Priscilla to return with the gift she's got for him. When he's at his most unaware, Priscilla starts sneaking up to the sofa.

"Raaowr!!" Priscilla surprised Calimero by popping up at the front of his seat.

"Yikes!! Don't scare me like that Priscilla!" Calimero said.

"Realize it Calimero. I'm gonna catch you now, and you won't be getting away!" Priscilla said with a slightly mischievous, but playful tone in her voice.

"Gulp... A-are you really meaning what you're saying now??" Calimero asked nervously, not knowing whether she's joking or if she's serious. With no hesitation Priscilla then gets up on the sofa to grab him. Calimero manages to evade her hand and makes his way down the sofa. He tries to hide under the sofa, but even there Priscilla's arm is long enough to reach under.

"Almost got you now!" Priscilla said and is about to grab him. Calimero runs off before she can even grab him though. Calimero keeps screaming for help as Priscilla keeps chasing him around the apartment. Suddenly Priscilla comes to a halt.

"Huh? Why are you screaming like that, Calimero?? Aren't you having any fun with me?" Priscilla asked him. Having just come to a stop as well, Calimero's about to tell her.

"Having fun?? You're the one who started chasing me in the first place, and now you're asking why I'm screaming?? Shouldn't you be knowing it?!!" Calimero told her. Feeling she's made a terrible mistake, Priscilla starts shedding some tears.

"Well, I... I just... just wanted to play a game with you, and... sobbing I thought you would have been prepared for it... what a big mistake of me!" Priscilla said and starts crying, believing this to be the end of their fun night.

"Ops... looks like I've been misunderstanding the entire situation here. " Calimero said and grabs Priscilla's shoe.

"Priscilla, look. It's ok. We all make mistakes, and I'm sorry for having misunderstood what you really wanted to do with me. Why didn't you just tell me about this game?" Calimero said.

"Oh Calimero... sob it's... it's all my own doing. I should have told you before hand... but I figured you would have been long prepared and I just went off to start the game straight away... I was apparently wrong about it." Priscilla said with the tears keeping on coming down her face.

"Priscilla, please... it's not your fault. I think it's more or less me who's at fault here for misunderstanding... I just wasn't prepared for the game we were going to play, that's all. I'm still fine, and you didn't hurt me during the chase." Calimero assured her.

"R-Really? ... y-you're not saying this just to calm me down, are you?" Priscilla asked.

"Not at all. I just don't wanna see you being sad. There's nothing I hate more than seeing you being upset. I'm forgiving you Priscilla. You're not the kind of girl who would hurt me or anyone else by any intention... except for wasps, which I also kinda cannot stand being around as well." Calimero said and keeps consoling his girlfriend.

"stops sobbing Calimero... you're the best boyfriend I've ever come to met..." Priscilla said and let's Calimero keep on consoling her for a while. With Priscilla having been forgiven by her boyfriend, they then resume their game of chase.